Relationships to other entities:

The BCAC operates as an umbrella organisation, representing and providing support and information to individuals and groups with an interest in improving outcomes for New Zealanders experiencing breast cancer. The BCAC has a coordinating role, facilitating communication and cooperation among its member groups.

Main sources of cash and resources:

The BCAC's activities are funded by donations and grants from individuals, businesses, other charities, NGOs and government entities, bequests and interest on savings.

Main methods used to raise funds:

This year BCAC received a Lotteries grant to support the maintenance of its website and the distribution of the Step By Step resource pack, an educational grant from Pfizer to conduct research into resources for women with metastatic breast cancer, and grants from Trillian Trust, First Sovereign Trust and Breast Cancer Foundation NZ for printing 1,000 extra copies of Step By Step. Public donations were received throughout the year. Regular contributions were made by an Australian health and beauty company and other funds were raised via campaigns run by local businesses. The BCAC does not use a third party to raise funds. It does not charge a fee for membership and it does not require payment for the goods and services it supplies.

Reliance on volunteers and donated goods and services:

The BCAC relies on gifts of volunteer time and expertise to administer the Society and to carry out its purposes, e.g. researching current evidence-based information about breast cancer detection, treatment and care and promoting and supporting such research; representing those affected by breast cancer in Aotearoa New Zealand to parliament, the health system, the scientific and medical communities, media, corporate entities and the general public; providing consumer input and representation at regional and national levels to the development of policies and strategies affecting those with breast cancer in Aotearoa New Zealand; and facilitating connections and networks of people and organisations sharing similar issues, concerns and experiences in relation to breast cancer.
